Amy Malkan, Visual Artist and Professional Speaker .

Amy Malkan is a Houston native, visual artist and professional speaker. Through her unwavering passion for personal development, a gift to command attention and deliver powerful messages to a captivating audience, she founded The Malkan Group, LLC.

They provide programs for professional and personal development infused with creative activities. Amy recognized a correlation with doing hands-on creative activities with comprehending and sustaining professional and personal development concepts. The concepts become tangible and easily applicable to everyday life and create continuous motivation in every aspect of one's life.

Her goal is with every participant is to leave feeling motivated, inspired, empowered, positive and ultimately realize the only barrier in front of them is the one they created in their mind.
